DESCRIPTION

Serving as the general contractor, CGT Construction executed the comprehensive renovation of this Main Line residence in Ardmore, transforming the property into a masterfully updated, high-end estate. Led by a civil engineer, the project required a sophisticated balance of elevated design and technical rigor, from the structural execution of a gourmet kitchen and luxury bathrooms to the full-scale remodeling of the basement and exterior. By blending sleek fixtures with intentional textures and custom-layered lighting, we redefined the home as a private sanctuary that emphasizes both structural durability and timeless elegance. Driven by a commitment to customer satisfaction and engineering excellence, we delivered a seamless, high-value transformation exactly as promised.
